

KEEPS SCHEDULE UNDER HIS HAT

R. M. Burgess Will Not Let Change of Home Keep Him From Football.

Hats are used for other purposes than for covering the head as shown in the case of Dr. R. M. Burgess, Columbia's biggest football fan. "Doc" keeps the schedule of the football games in his hat instead of in his head.

"Doc" is leaving Columbia in a few days to live in Paris, Mo., until January when he will go to St. Louis to take up his new position with the Briscoe Motor Car Company. But leaving Columbia is not going to keep him away from the football games. He says that he is going to drive over from Paris for every game this fall if it is possible, and bring as many as the car will hold.

COLUMBIA CATTLE HERD
ONE OF COUNTRY'S BEST

Few students in the University realize that right here in Columbia there is probably the best herd of dairy cattle in existence. Although there is no distinguished cow in the herd, every one is a high producer.

Many of the old cows have creditable records. Among these is Pontiac Lady Josephine, a cow which until a few months ago held the State record for butter fat. Another is Missouri Josephine Sarcastic. This cow, a daughter of the famous cow Missouri Chief Josephine, during Farmers' Week last winter was producing ninety-three pounds of milk daily.

But there can be no doubt in the mind of the careful observer that the younger stock is destined to exceed the records of the older cows. One young Holstein cow in the herd produced over 15,000 pounds of milk as a two-year-old. This is the highest record made by any cow in the herd at that age.

Campus Virginia B, a two-year-old Jersey, is now making a remarkable record. She is averaging more than fifty pounds of butter fat a month and in June ranked third among Jersey cows of her age.

One thing worthy of note concerning this herd is that since the foundation stock was purchased, no new cows have been added. This shows what can be accomplished by careful selection and breeding.

The annual exhibit of the department of manual arts of the University at the State Fair at Sedalia is planned this year to show the necessary equipment for doing wood and metal work in the home and on the farm. The exhibit booth is arranged, as far as possible, to represent a model shop. A list of the necessary equipment for home and farm work with the prices, is posted. The tools needed for the equipment are also shown. There are also blue prints of model shops, photographs of wood and metal work done in the department here and examples of forging.

J. M. Alton and N. C. Murray, assistants in the manual arts department, have charge of the exhibit.

VISITING MASON PRAISES CITY

Kansas City Delegation Pleased By Reception Given Here.

Nearly 400 Columbia Masons, members of the Eastern Star and friends attended the special meeting in the Thilo building Friday night in connection with the visit of the twenty Scottish Rite Masons from Kansas City. Columbia was praised during the program, when John H. Glazier, a Kansas City attorney, who expressed the appreciation of the splendid treatment accorded the visitors. He said: "I congratulate you on having one of the finest little cities I have ever seen."

Two local men, Dr. John Pickard and E. W. Stephens, gave interesting talks on Scottish Rite Masonry, and Mr. Glazier explained the order's principal teachings, which are courage, charity, companionableness and patriotism. Columbia has about twenty Masons of the Scottish Rite degree, and Mr. Glazier said the number was unusually large for a town of this size.

A musical program was given by Miss Catherine Rue, contralto; Miss Albert Blattman, soprano; Miss Gladys Cranston, pianist, and Clifford Randall, tenor. All are from Kansas City. The ladies of the Eastern Star served ice cream and cake, after which the third degree work was put on by the visitors' degree team in costume. L. T. Hopper was raised to the degree of a Master Mason.

A MAN'S MEAL COSTS MORE

Miss Bell and Miss Robinson Give Data on Well-Balanced Meal.

"A well-balanced meal is a matter of science and may be prepared for a man for 14 cents; for a woman for 12 cents, and for an 8-year-old child for 8 cents," said Miss Bab Bell and Miss Mary Robinson, instructors in the home economics department of the University, to a gathering of women in the Coates House in Kansas City recently.

As a sample of a poorly planned and balanced meal, this is a typical one, said Miss Bell: Cream of corn soup, steak, mashed potatoes, macaroni and cheese, chocolate pudding. "Macaroni and cheese would be enough without the steak," she explained. "The reason men rebel against meat substitutes is because we do not select the proper substitutes. Also, if hot biscuits were made and eaten correctly, there would be no reason why they should not be eaten as bread."

Miss Robinson pointed out that the average meal should contain from 10 to 15 per cent protein, 35 per cent fat, and the rest carbohydrates. Calories are heat units and measure the fuel value of food. A farmer needs 4,000 a day, his wife about 3,150, but a lawyer, for instance, would need considerably fewer than the farmer.

Wants Revenge at Norman This Year.

H. E. Thompson, B. S. in M. E. '13, writes that he is employed by the Pioneer Telephone and Telegraph Company at Oklahoma City. Mr. Thompson says: "Chalk me up as an out-of-the-state enthusiast. Send the 'daily dope' on the Tigers. I expect to see a revengeful victory at Norman, October 28."

Many Freshmen in Engineering.

The enrollment in the School of Engineering of the University is approximately the same as last year. The freshman class is much larger than that of last year, but in the higher classes the attendance has decreased some.

Scholars, however, will problem, but not at the University of Missouri. An investigation in Columbia shows that not over a dozen cars are owned by students here. Several of these cars have been used for "rushing week" only and will be sent home soon.
